1. Introduction

- 1.1 This policy has been produced to help <Academy> prevent and respond to bullying as part of its overall behaviour policy. It outlines the Government's approach to bullying, relevant legal obligations, the powers Academies have to tackle bullying, and the principles which underpin the most effective anti-bullying strategies in <Academy>.
- 1.2 <Academy> has a duty to safeguard and promote the welfare of children and create and maintain a safe learning environment. Therefore, the importance of having a strong and consistent bullying policy in place, allows <Academy> to educate its staff to identify any situation which is likely to result in conflict or bullying behaviour before it happens and thus deteriorate into a significantly more serious issue.
- 1.3 This policy should be read in conjunction with DSAT Academies Behaviour Policy, Allegations Policy and Child Protection Policy. This Policy is also compliant with statutory guidance on Keeping Children Safe in Education 2014.

2. Safeguarding Children and Young People

- 2.1 Under the Children's Act 1989 a bullying incident should be addressed as a child protection concern when there is 'reasonable cause to suspect that a child is suffering, or is likely to suffer, significant harm'. Where this is the case, <Academy> staff should report their concerns to their local authority children's social care.
- 2.2 Even where safeguarding is not considered to be an issue, <Academy> may need to draw on a range of external services to support the pupil who is experiencing bullying, or to tackle any underlying issue which has contributed to a child engaging in bullying.

3. What is Bullying?

- 3.1 Bullying is behaviour by an individual or group, repeated over time, that intentionally hurts another individual or group either physically or emotionally. Bullying can take many forms (for instance, cyber-bullying via text messages or the internet), and is often motivated by prejudice against particular groups, for example on grounds of race, religion, gender, sexual orientation, or because a child is adopted or has caring responsibilities. It might be motivated by actual differences between children, or perceived differences.
- 3.1.1 Stopping violence and ensuring immediate physical safety is <Academy's> first priority, but emotional bullying can sometimes be more damaging than physical - so teachers will have to make their own judgements about each specific case.

3.2 Cyberbullying

- 3.2.1 The rapid development of, and widespread access to technology has provided a new medium for 'virtual' bullying, which can occur in or outside the Academy. Cyber-bullying is a different form of bullying and can happen at all times of the day, with a potentially bigger audience, and more accessories as people forward on content at a click.
- 3.2.2 The wider search powers included in the Education Act 2011 give teachers stronger powers to tackle cyber-bullying by providing a specific power to search for and, if necessary, delete inappropriate images (or files) on electronic devices, including mobile phones.

4. Dealing with Bullying

- 4.1 <Academy> has clear and consistent policies in place to deal with bullying and poor behaviour, which are available to parents, pupils and staff so that, when incidents do occur, they are dealt with quickly.
- 4.1.1 <Academy> has created an environment that prevents bullying from being a serious problem in the first place, by educating our staff to gather intelligence about issues between pupils which might provoke conflict and develop strategies to prevent bullying occurring in the first place.
- 4.1.2 Academy staff and Principals/Headteachers are best placed to decide how best to respond to the particular issues that affect our pupils. There is no single solution to bullying.

5. Prevention

- 5.1 <Academy> believes that responding to bullying should not start at the point at which a child has been bullied. <Academy> has developed a more sophisticated approach in which Academy staff proactively gather intelligence about issues between pupils which might provoke conflict and develop strategies to prevent bullying occurring in the first place. This might involve talking to pupils about issues of difference, perhaps in lessons, through dedicated events or projects, or through assemblies.
- 5.2 Staff themselves will be able to determine what will work best for their pupils, depending on the particular issues they need to address.
- 5.3 <Academy> has created an ethos of good behaviour where pupils treat one another and the Academy staff with respect because they know that this is the right way to behave. Values of respect for staff and other pupils, an understanding of the value of education, and a clear understanding of how our actions affect others permeate the whole Academy environment and are reinforced by staff and older pupils who set a good example to the rest.

6. Intervention

- 6.1 <Academy> has applied disciplinary measures for pupils who bully in order to show clearly that their behaviour is wrong. Disciplinary measures must be applied fairly, consistently, and reasonably taking account of any special educational needs or disabilities that the pupils may have and taking into account the needs of vulnerable pupils.
- 6.1.1 It is also important to consider the motivations behind bullying behaviour and whether it reveals any concerns for the safety of the perpetrator. Where this is the case, the child engaging in bullying may need support themselves.

In terms of intervention, <Academy> also:

- involves parents to ensure that they are clear that the Academy does not tolerate bullying and are aware of the procedures to follow if they believe that their child is being bullied. Parents feel confident that <Academy> will take any complaint about bullying seriously and resolve the issue in a way that protects the child, and they reinforce the value of good behaviour at home
- involves pupils. All pupils understand the Academy's approach and are clear about the part they can play to prevent bullying, including when they find themselves as bystanders
- regularly evaluates and update our approach to take account of developments in technology, for instance updating 'acceptable use' policies for computers
- implements disciplinary sanctions. The consequences of bullying reflect the seriousness of the incident so that others see that bullying is unacceptable
- openly discusses differences between people that could motivate bullying, such as religion, ethnicity, disability, gender or sexuality. Also children with different family situations, such as looked after children or those with caring responsibilities.
- provides effective staff training. Anti-bullying policies are most effective when all Academy staff understand the principles and purpose of the Academy's policy, its legal responsibilities regarding bullying, how to resolve problems, and where to seek support.
- works with the wider community such as the police and children's services where bullying is particularly serious or persistent and where a criminal offence may have been committed.
- makes it easy for pupils to report bullying so that they are assured that they will be listened to and incidents acted on. Pupils should feel that they can report bullying which may have occurred outside the Academy including cyber-bullying
- create an inclusive environment. <Academy> creates a safe environment where pupils can openly discuss the cause of their bullying, without fear of further bullying or discrimination
- celebrate success. Celebrating success is an important way of creating a positive Academy ethos around the issue.
